Romans and Christians

“Weird” is one of those words that we use often but don’t always realize what it really means. We often use it interchangeably with “strange” or “unusual.” But by definition, “weird” refers to something “involving or suggesting the supernatural; unearthly or uncanny.” That means that as Christians our lives should get to be weird as can be, because we’ve been given a whole new life from God Himself through Jesus and get to live weird by the power of God the Holy Spirit.
